DIVORCES INVALID.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]
Marriage [Complications Out of Court Decisions.]

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]
C. J. IRRIE, Oklahoma Territory, Aug. 1. Decisions were granted by the supreme court yesterday which will cause many marriage complications. Following the decision that the probate judges had no right to grant divorces in Oklahoma since August 13, 1893, the supreme court yesterday decided that even before that time their jurisdiction was confined to persons who had been residents of the territory two years or more, and that all divorces granted by them to persons on a ninety days residence are null and void and subsequently marriages are bigamous. This decision invalidates between three and four hundred divorces granted to eastern people in addition to seven or eight hundred rendered invalid by decision of last Saturday.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]
Cause Loss of Human Lives and Heavy Damage to Property.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Aug. 1.—A freight train on the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad was caught in a landslide and derailed near Adelaide. A succession of cloudbursts occurred about 12 miles north of Adelaide. Engineer Gove and Brakeman Dolan lost their lives in the water. Six persons are known to have been drowned at Adelaide, and two others are reported missing. The railroad for 10 miles near Wilbur has been washed away. More destruction is reported at Camp McCourt.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The Red river is swollen to a higher point than it had reached for years by a cloudburst, causing much damage. Much of the railroad track and many bridges between this place and Esopus, and also between Catskill and Vasquez, were washed away, and it will probably be several days before the damage can be repaired sufficiently for trains to pass through. Ranchmen also suffered heavy losses.

HOT TIMES AHEAD.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]
OMAHA, Aug. 1.—The situation in Omaha over the efforts of the A. P. A. to get control of the police force is becoming more serious hourly. Two police forces will be doing business in the city within 24 hours. A collision is imminent. The A. P. A. interests have organized and allied a police force to do their bidding. Church Howe says that Tom Majors has tendered his service to the A. P. A. to take command of their forces in Omaha today. Not to be behind his friend Majors, Howe has volunteered to assist General Barry in any capacity.

An ardent patriot, he aided his country in its war for independence. He was selected for the most important of duties and entered Russia as a Polish spy. After the subjugation of his country a price of 50,000 rubles was placed upon "Kenkel's" head by Russia, but he escaped across the borders of Poland and came to America.

Two Miserables.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]
MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—Isaac Gauthier, the gamin who shot and killed his sweetheart, Corinne Consigny, in an assignation house, says: "I was suffering from consumption and she from some incurable disease. The cure to whom we went to get married refused to marry us on that account, and, as we loved one another madly, we decided to die. In my excitement, however, I emptied the revolver and no bullets were left for me. I am ready to die, however. My lungs are gone, and I probably will not live over a week under any circumstances."

Amos Hammond, who has been a salesmen in Gatwick's clothing store for a year and a half, will enter the employment of the Arnold print works Monday.

He will serve as timekeeper while the additions to the Eclipse and Beaver mills are being built and will afterwards do office work.

It is expected that Mrs. Frank Perry and son of Denver, Col., will be home for a visit soon. Mr. Perry's health continues to improve.

NORTH ADAMS IN ATHLETICS.

In this town that is so active, wide awake and full of life; why is it that baseball, bicycling and all athletic sports receive so little interest? We are the town the home of whose representatives captured the normal school now in progress of erection. We are the town that is to have new mills and new roads. We are the town that is to have a new opera house. We are the town that is to have underground telephone cables. Those of us who are young expect to see the new electric road to Williamstown. And we are the town that can't support a ball team.

Why is it that in so hustling a place as we all know North Adams to be, each year baseball is doomed to fail for lack of support. Is it because we are too busy? We had better take a part of each week for recreation. "A healthy mind in a healthy body" is a proverb that helped to make Rome and is as true today as then. Exercise and recreation are a necessity. The towns around us are able to support good teams. Early in the summer the Northern Berkshire Baseball league was organized in the hopes of stimulating interest in the sport. The results have been unsatisfactory.

There are a great many wheelmen in town and a local division of the wheelmen's league; but united interest is as low as in baseball. We have no meets or races. An occasional field day makes a periodical squall in the general calm of athletic sports.

There are times when interest ripples. We all remember the well played ball games of three years ago; the bicycle races of the first North Adams bicycle club, and the handicap match that brought Doyle here. If such an interest as caused these outbursts could be kept up it would benefit the town. Healthy sport is always an advantage to any community. If the North Adams spirit could be awakened for this side of a town's life there would be no danger of failure of our team. If the people would come out to our ball games, and show an enthusiasm for our field days we would be as near the top in the field of athletic skill as we are in business activity.

This country seems to be waking up to the fact that the best roads are the cheapest. Apropos to the agitation for good roads, the Detroit Journal says: "The thing to do is to encourage the spirit of road reform, and cause it to spread into all the states." Certainly that is a good thing to strive for, but it is not enough. Something more than the spirit of road reform is needed. There must be a practical demonstration of the advantages of first-class highway to encourage any community to undertake this work. A few miles of good road are worth more than theories on the subject covering reams of paper. We expect the few miles of state road in our neighborhood to do more good in its own line of progress than any amount of agitation.

It is not hard to find truth in Shakespeare, but an exchange gives it a timely application. When Hamlet's mother expressed the sentiment that "the lady doth protest too much," the maternal parent of the melancholy Dane uttered one of those profound truths of philosophy whose application is in their bearing upon innumerable and constantly recurring phases of human experience. As for instance, the newspaper press doth protest too much that Grover Cleveland does not think of a third term, and is not to be thought of for a third term; the free trade press doth protest too much that the tariff issue is dead and done for that it is impossible that it can be seriously considered as an issue in the next campaign.

The Chinaman seems to have earned a reputation for cowardice in the late war. An exchange says that in a philosophical Chinaman who is taking comfort from the fact that the Chinese were beaten through the agency of gunpowder which they invented. The trouble is, however, that they did not happen to beat the Japanese with the same means. It was not O, almond-eyed disciple of Confucius! gunpowder, but it was cowardice, to which the defeat of your countrymen was chiefly owing. They are splendid sprinters, just the same. The local yellow men however have evidently caught the spirit of Lexington and Bunker hill and are standing up for their rights.

During this administration the government has been hard up but $60,000 was taken out last year to maintain the dispatch boat Dolphin as a pleasure craft for Secretary Herbert. The secretary, however, has endeavored to do what he can to repair this drain by docking his private secretary's pay to the amount of $200.33. The secretary remained in Europe sixty days, and Mr. Herbert decided that he was entitled to only thirty days pay, instead of full pay during his absence. Thus again are we invited to complete the splendor of the Cleveland administration.

We agree with an Empire state exchange which says that if the Democratic press of the country which so sharply arrayed the Republican party for the attack of some of its unfaithful representatives atives at Albany will give equal attention to the fact that the Republican party is now rejecting these men one by one, it will show that its former abuse was a sincere effort to purity politics, and it will also be proclaiming an action which the Democratic party is not always willing to adopt with its unprincipled office holders.

AN IMPORTANT TRANSFER.

The Berkshire Bicycle Works Pass Into the Hands of a New Owner.

H. E. Blake has sold the Berkshire Bicycle works to C. H. Hubbard, ticket agent for the Fitchburg railroad in this town, who took possession of the business today. The price paid is not made public.

The business was established three years ago by Mr. Blake and Anthony Affhausen, under the name of the Berkshire Cycle company. The business was successful, but about a year ago Mr. Affhausen withdrew from the firm to go to South Africa and since that time Mr. Blake has been the sole proprietor. He sells out and retires from the business in order to engage in civil engineering in company with Frank B. Locke.

The establishment is situated in the rear of the Hoosac Savings bank, where it occupies a large amount of room, comprising an office, a spacious and well equipped machine shop and a hall in which bicycle riding is taught. The business consists of the selling and letting of bicycles, also repairing and the sale of bicycle sundries. It has been carefully attended to from the beginning and is now on a very substantial basis.

Mr. Hubbard, the new proprietor, has been employed by the Fitchburg railroad as ticket agent in this town for nearly eight years, during which time he has gained a wide acquaintance and a large circle of friends. He has attended to his duties in a manner highly satisfactory to the railroad company and its patrons and has won the good will and esteem of all classes. The people of the town will be glad to know that he has decided to go into business and make his home permanently here, and will wish him every success in his enterprise. He will remain in charge of the ticket office for the present, and possibly until spring, and yet he will assume the business management of the bicycle works at once. John Kane, a very efficient mechanic, who has been employed in the works since they were established, will be retained, as patrons will be glad to know. Mr. Hubbard will carry on the bicycle business in all its branches, and as his is the only concern of the kind in this part of the country he can hardly fail to do a good business. He will carry at all times a full line of staple goods and will introduce all novelties of proved merit.

The retiring proprietor has had very pleasant relations with the public and he lays down the business only to take up what will be to him a still more congenial occupation. Both Mr. Blake and Mr. Hubbard have the best wishes of all for their future success.

THE GIRL SPY.

A Well Presented Play to a Good House Last Night.

The initial presentation of the "Girl Spy" under the auspices of Lincoln Camp S. of V., was well carried out last evening, as was evidenced by the appreciative and frequent bursts of applause with which the climaxes and better parts were greeted.

Miss Clara Turner in the interpretation of her many parts, proved herself a powerful and realistic actress of exceptional merit. At one moment she awes in her rendition of pathos, then inspires in her dramatic and sentimental passages, and then again throws a dancing ray of sunshines into it all which relieves all monotony.

At one moment she awes in her rendition of pathos, then inspires in her dramatic and sentimental passages, and then again throws a dancing ray of sunshines into it all which relieves all monotony.

Her impersonation of the part of Eli Jim, a half-witted country lad, is a specimen of this work. Bert Miller under whose management the whole production is rendered, besides the duties thus entailed, ably carries his comedy parts as Mickie O'Honey, Muggins and the cook.

In conjunction with Harry Brown as Pete and Henry Chrystal as "Hans," who are peculiarly well fitted for their characterizations, keep things lively while in action, and the time from dragging. Their antics, aside from Miss Turner's acting was a predominating feature of the whole performance they keeping the audience in an uproar. The other parts were well carried and reflected credit upon the amateurs who handled them, G. E. Whipple as Tom Markham, doing finely. It would not do the play justice to omit reference to the tableaux which were the climaxes of each act. They were grand, inspiring and patriotic and alone worth the admission.

The two remaining presentations should meet with hearty and merited support. Don't miss the treat of seeing it, in its freshness and novelty.

POSTOFFICE EVIDENCE.

Increased Business in Every Department—Plattsfield Behind Again.

Perhaps there is no place in town where there can be found better evidence of the present influx of strangers and present activity than at the postoffice. The office is doing a remarkably large business in all its departments. The general delivery is more busy now than it has been since the establishment of the carrier system. This is caused by the large number of strangers who are here looking for work and who have found employment. Because they are strangers they dislike to have their letters addressed to any particular street and number, not knowing how long they will remain there. Every evening on the arrival of the mails the office is full of waiting people. The money order department took a sudden jump recently and is still bounding along. A partial explanation of this lies in the fact that strangers who are at work in town regularly send home their spare earnings to their families in the towns they left. Many of these orders go to Hoosick Falls, N. Y. In regard to money order business the North Adams office is far ahead of the Plattsfield office. The first of July the new money order system went into effect and all offices began with No. 1 on their order book at that date. The numbers of the orders now being issued by the North Adams office are on the other side of 8,000 while the Plattsfield people have only reached 6,000. In the sale of stamps and the amount of pieces of mail handled daily the business of the local office is much above what it was a year ago. These are signs of the times.

At the close of the school of the Kingdom recently held at Grinnell, Iowa, a short service was held in memory of the late Dr. Coyle. Mr. Coyle had been one of the teachers in that unique school and was highly esteemed by all the leading thinkers that gathered to it.

We agree with an Empire state exchange which says that if the Democratic press of the country which so sharply arrayed the Republican party for the attack of some of its unfaithful representatives

Joseph Coon, whose hand was badly injured in Bartlett's saw mill the other evening, is getting along nicely. It is now seen that the fingers Dr. Riley said could be saved will turn out all right. The touching part of the accident was the man's plea for his fingers. "Don't cut them off," he would repeatedly beg, "We them up in plaster of Paris or something and they will grow together some way." He had to lose two of them.

The case of Charles Lacy against Joseph Montgomery, to recover money which Lacy claimed was owed him for salary, has been decided in favor of the defendant. Lacy went to work for Montgomery without any agreement about salary. When he was getting through, his employer went to pay him but he would not accept what was offered, claiming that he should have as much pay as his brother whom he succeeded. BANK STREET

DIME BANK TROUBLES.The Question of Receivership Is Not Yet Disposed Of.Value of $20,000 In Notes
Now In Dispute.A Suspicion That Cashier John Walden Has Gone to Jamaica.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Aug. 1.—The hearing on State Attorney Hunter's application for a permanent receiver for the Dime Savings bank came up before Judge Shumway in the superior court yesterday. Attorney E. B. Summer, representing the bank, asked for a postponement. Said he: "The directors believe the bank is solvent and should be continued. If we find upon further investigation that a receiver is necessary, we shall offer no further objection." Mr. Summer presented to the court petitions signed by numerous depositors protesting against the appointment of a receiver.

By rule, State Attorney Hunter stated that a week ago last Monday morning notes to the amount of $30,000 matured at the bank. At that time there was $35 in the bank and $15,000 on deposit in other banks, the books had not been written up, and the doors were closed against depositors. Mr. Croft now asks for a receiver to determine the standing of the bank and not to trust this to the men who brought the bank to its present condition.

Attorney Summer made application to the court for a temporary injunction restraining the bank's officials from paying out money at present.

Bank Commissioner Croft was placed on the witness stand, and testified that on July 21 there was in the bank $17,000 in worthless paper not charged off, and a cash deficit of $1,057. On July 23 the bank was insolvent to the amount of $27,492.

The hearing occupied the entire day, and was adjourned until Aug. 5, at which time $30,000 in notes, considered undetectable by the bank commissioner, will be examined by the defense, who claim them collectible.

Where Is Walden?

It is now believed that Cashier John Walden is in Jamaica. Julius Pinney, formerly of this city, and an intimate friend of Walden, having sailed for that place July 24. Pinney was formerly general manager of the Automatic Light company of this city, of which Walden was treasurer. Recently he has been employed in Boston by a firm handling the West Indian incandescent gas burner.

Pinney was in this city July 18, and told friends that he was going to Jamaica on business for that firm. The next day, it is said, Assistant Superintendent Hines, of the Boston Pinkerton agency, found a man who saw Pinney and Walden together in Boston, and Pinney stated that Walden intended to sail for Jamaica the following day. It is thought, however, that this trip was postponed until the 25th, and that Walden accompanied his friend Pinney.

Defender's Day.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 1.—The Defender beat the Vigilant yesterday in the run of 42 miles from New London to this point. The weather was in favor of the Vigilant all the way through. It has been often said by those who know that the Vigilant can beat any yacht afloat in running before the wind, but yesterday it was not the same. From start to finish the Defender gained on the Vigilant, and came home far ahead. The finish showed the new boat to be 12m. 2s. to the good in actual time. The Jubilee, by her refusal to start yesterday, indicated that she does not want to go into a race when there is a blow, and a victory in such weather can not be of great value just now, for the chances are that the cup races will be sailed in light weather, and that is the game the Valkyrie III was built for.

Author and Prelate.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 1.—Rev. Mark A. De Wolfe Howe, Episcopal bishop of central Pennsylvania, died yesterday at his summer residence at Bristol, after a sickness of only a week's duration. Police Still Puzzled.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The police resumed work on the Alberta Stuart mystery this morning, with the possibility of turning up some thing which will throw some light upon it, else the work of the past few days will go for naught. PROVIDENCE, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Band, wife of Julius Band, was arrested yesterday in a worthless paper not charged off, and a cash deficit of $1,057. On July 23 the bank was insolvent to the amount of $27,492.

The hearing occupied the entire day, and was adjourned until Aug. 5, at which time $30,000 in notes, considered undetectable by the bank commissioner, will be examined by the defense, who claim them collectible.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The naval brigade reserves went through a course of target practice yesterday, aboard the Raleigh, several miles outside of Boston light. The rest of the day was devoted to minor instruction.

He may live, but the chances are against him. It is said that Morris has killed two men before. He is thought to be crazy.

Charged With Forgery.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 1.—Mrs. Abby A. Hutchins of Hubbardston was arraigned at Gardner yesterday afternoon on a complaint charging her with the forgery of an order on the

HOLMES' DEADLY VATS.

Belief That They Were Used to Suffocate His Victims.

JANITOR QUINLAN IS SUSPECTED OF MANY CRIMES.

Convict In Little Rock Prison Expected to Make Startling Revelations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Another link in the chain binding Quinlan to the alleged crimes of H. H. Holmes was forged yesterday by an admission made by Quinlan when questioned by Chief of Police Badenoch.

He said he was hired by a man named Allen (otherwise known as Hatch) to go to Fort Worth, Tex. At the time he was engaged he said he had only one day's acquaintance with Allen, and on the following day he started for Fort Worth. Quinlan had previously claimed that he had no knowledge of any crime committed by Holmes, although he had admitted that in Fort Worth he met and knew a man called "Mascot." Now that Allen and "Mascot" are practically proven to be one and the same man, Quinlan's contradictory stories have placed him in a still worse light with the police.

That Mrs. Quinlan, the wife of the janitor who is supposed to know so much about the misdeeds of Holmes, made a partial confession to the police yesterday is almost certain.

At an early hour the two principal investigators of the case went to the Harrison street station, where Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan have been confined, taking with them a stenographer. Chief Badenoch declared that nothing had transpired which he could give to the press without injuring the police status of the case.

He admitted that Quinlan broke down completely and wept like a child, but denied that he had said anything which would implicate either himself or Holmes in the murders laid at their doors.

"Mrs. Quinlan was very much affected," said Chief Badenoch. "She not only wept throughout the whole interview, which I need not say was unusually severe, but she said, 'I call on God to witness that I know nothing more of the murder than I have already told. If Pat says I know anything more about it he simply lies, that's all.'"

This remark was called out by the deputy statement made to her that her husband had confessed everything. At least this is the story the police told, but it is believed from the whole circumstances of the interview that much more was said than the inquisitors cared to give out.

"We shall not go to Little Rock at all," said Inspector Fitzpatrick. "We are going to bring Hatch here, if possible. We cannot bring him on a requisition, as he is already confined on an offense of which he has been convicted, but I think we can get him here on a parole."

Allen's Secrets.

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 1.—Convict Allen persists in his assertion that Minnie Williams was alive six months ago and in the belief that she is alive now. He did not meet Holmes in Arkansas, and his connection with him was confined to Fort Worth, Tex. Allen declares that the detectives from Chicago will get nothing for their troubles unless they are able to secure his release from the penitentiary.

The only place at which Allen met Holmes, he was at Fort Worth, and he knows a great deal about his crookedness in that city.
